7. There are many amusing lines in the story. Here are a few of them. Rewrite each one in ordinary prose so that the meaning is retained. One has been done for you as an example:

(b) Mrs. Packletide had already arranged in her mind the lunch she would give at her house in Curzon Street, ostensibly in Loona Bimberton's honour, with a tiger-skin rug occupying most of the

| foreground and all of the conversation.  |
|--|
| Mrs. Packletide had already imagined the lunch party she would have, supposedly in honour of Loona Bimberton, where she would display the tiger-skin rug and talk about the tiger hunt.                    |
| (c) Mothers carrying their babies home through the jungle after the day's work in the fields hushed their singing lest they might curtail the restful sleep of the venerable herd-robber.                  |
|  |
| Answer: Mothers, with thier babies, after the day's work, walked past the jungle in complete silence so as not to disturb the sleep of the esteemed tiger.   |
| (d) Louisa Mebbin adopted a protective elder-sister attitude towards money in general, irrespective of nationality or denomination   |
|  |
| Answer: Louisa Mebbin was very particular about money, irrespective of nationality or denomination.  |
| (e) Evidently the wrong animal had been hit, and the beast of prey had succumbed to heart-failure, caused by the sudden report of the rifle, accelerated by senile decay                                   |
|  |
| Answer: It was clear that the wrong animal had been shot. The tiger had died of heart-failure caused by the gun shot and hastened by old age.  |
| (f) As for Loona Bimberton, she refused to look at an illustrated paper for weeks, and her letter of thanks for the gift of a tiger-claw brooch was a model of repressed emotions                          |
|  |
| Answer:Loona Bimberton did not read the illustrated newspaper for weeksand her letter of thanks for the gift of a tiger-claw brooch waswritten in the form which could hide her true feelings. |
| 8. The story Mrs. Packletide's Tiger has a number of oxymorons. Can you identify them and write them down in your notebooks? Answer:   |
| List of oxymorons used in the story:   |
| Over-much risk Elaborate carelessness  |
| Immeasurably nearer  |
| Gladly connived Pardonably annoyed   |
